OUR STORY

Avidan's Mission was set up in February 2019 to support the funding towards Camp Simcha's Special Care Baby Project.

Nathaniel and Avidan were little twin boys born to Gabriella & Eitan Freilich at 28 weeks. Following 110 days in hospital Nathaniel came home, a happy, healthy little child ready to bring his goodness to the world. His little brother Avidan unfortunately passed away at just five weeks old. But his mission remained clear...

“ We were thrown into a world which we didn't know how to navigate - with no idea which way to turn or where to seek professional advise. We recognised there is more that can be offered to parents experiencing situations similar to ours. If one positive can come out of our sons tragic passing, it will be that Avidan's legacy is the creation of a 'One Stop Shop' to signpost or provide services that can make all the difference. Whether that's organising logistical support or supplying packs with essentials for premature babies and parents. Through Camp Simcha, Avidan's Mission aims to ensure parents are supported on every step of the journey. ” Gabriella & Eitan Freilich

How do we help families with babies requiring Neonatal or Special care?

Through Avidan's Mission, Camp Simcha is able to be a one-stop shop for families who require our services. As well as the support of an experienced qualified Neonatal nurse, our special care baby service can also help families while they are in hospital with practical help, from providing breast milk pumps or parking vouchers to sibling support or a night nurse for when they arrive home. Our specially designed bag will include essential equipment that is vital for the baby and parents that most hospitals can't afford to supply. Additionally we will be able to signpost you to other organisations to support you through the journey within hospital.

For most families this will be a short-term support service to help them through those first few weeks. However, having Camp Simcha on hand from the outset means we can be there for families going forward – with our full range of services – if their needs are more long-term.

“ I am there to bridge the gap when parents leave hospital with their baby. Each family will have different needs: from questions about feeds and administering medicines, to managing visitors and exposure to germs after weeks in hospital. Hopefully, knowing I am there - to visit them or speak on the phone - will help them gain confidence once they leave hospital. The 'Avidan's Mission' project, like so much Camp Simcha does, is tailor-made to give each family the support they need. ”
